Huge Majority for Grain Elevator By-Law

Principle of Exemption From Taxation of Grain Elevator Wins Approval

Overwhelming Verdict Given by Victoria Ratepayers in Favor of Arrangement—Mayor Pendray Expresses Gratification With Poll of 2,470 Against 131 for Important Measure

President of Chamber Declares Pessimism Has No Place Here

The last barrier in the path of the establishment of a million-dollar elevator at Ogden Point was magnificently swept aside by Victorians yesterday, when 2,470 ratepayers voted in favor of the by-law granting exemption from taxation on the Panama-Pacific Grain Terminal site for sixty-three years, and only 131 cast their ballots in the negative. There were six spoiled ballots.

Responding to the stirring summons of the Mayor and other civic leaders to support a project on which will be based the future of a great grain shipping port, citizens flocked to the polling booths in greater numbers yesterday than they have done for many years past when a money by-law had been at stake.

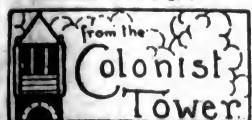

Of the total number of citizens entitled to vote upon the by-law, nearly one-third turned out to cast their ballots. Of this number only 131 dissented from the proposition that the Panama-Pacific Grain Terminal Limited should be encouraged to build here by the granting of tax exemption.

Announcement that the company will begin construction activities almost immediately is confidently expected within the course of the next few days.

Gratification expressed that such an overwhelming majority should have been given in favor of the by-law was last night expressed by civic leaders, who pointed out that in the landslide of votes could be discerned Victoria's will to capitalize her port potentialities and align herself with the great shipping centres of the Pacific Coast.

The decisive nature of the vote, they said, was a dramatic gesture of wholehearted commitment to a policy of industrial expansion. "Thank goodness" was the way one prominent business man expressed his feelings when apprised of the result of the vote. "I felt sure that the citizens would not fail to recognize the importance of the elevator issue. But I was just a little anxious. This victory means the establishment of one elevator here, and the establishment of one is necessary to demonstrate in a practical way the advantages of this port. No other other port will follow. Increased prosperity will be the real issue at stake."

Elevator Capacity Large
The Panama-Pacific Grain Terminal Limited elevator will be constructed at Ogden Point on a site leased from the Dominion Government for sixty-three years. It will be designed to handle up to 2,500,000 bushels of grain, the first unit having been completed last year.

Riffians Attacked On Extensive Front

French Launch Long-Heralded Drive—Two Army Corps Go Forward

FEZ, Morocco, Sept. 10.—The largest operations yet undertaken by the French in the Moroccan war opened today with an intensive artillery preparation on a forty-five-mile front in the central section of the French line, in the valley of the River Guergha. Two French army corps are engaged in this operation, the immediate objective of which is reconquest of the some north of the Guergha.

The Spanish landing at Alhucemas Bay and fighting in the region of Trucien are said to be facilitating the task of the French troops by drawing off a number of Rifians from the French line. The starting points of this movement are about thirty miles north of Fez.

Swindled B.C. Lightkeeper Grabs Alleged Bunco Man

J. L. Robinson Arrested After Exciting Chase Along Seattle Waterfront—Accused of Bilking George Alexius of $10,000

SEATTLE, Sept. 10.—For eight lonely years George Alexius was in voluntary exile, serving as lighthouse keeper on Unimak Island, off the Northwestern Coast of Canada, striving to amass enough money for a trip to his old home in Copenhagen. And then, as soon as he returned to civilization, his goal in view at last, he was cheated out of his fortune by two confidence men.

Such is the background of an exciting chase along the waterfront today, which culminated in the arrest of J. L. Robinson, who described himself as a carpenter, forty-five years old. Robinson, according to Alexius, is one of the men who swindled him. Enemy Recognized on Street. Alexius, a gray-haired man of fifty-five, was walking along Western Avenue, broke and despondent, when he suddenly espied Robinson and gave chase. Patrolmen C. L. Toms, H. M. Barton and W. F. Donlan joined in the pursuit and finally caught Robinson at Seneca Street.

Ghost Said to Weigh About as Much as a Mosquito's Eyebrow

PARIS, Sept. 10.—How much a ghost weighs was a question brought up in a report before the scientific committee of the International Spiritualist congress. The Metaphysics Institute of Paris, using a sensitive electrical scale, claims to have established the fact that ectoplasm has weight. The report said that a vague mass of ectoplasm caused the indicator of the instrument to move noticeably. "How much did it weigh?" asked a reporter. "About as much as a mosquito's eyebrow," laughingly replied Pascal Portant, secretary of the French spiritualist group.

Judge Declares Colley Trial Is Not a Sham

Mr. Justice Murphy Gives Reasons for Dismissal in Kamloops Disqualification Action Affecting Member

THE judgment of Mr. Justice Murphy in Keene vs. Colley has been received in the city, and sets forth the reasons for His Lordship's coming to the conclusion that the action was not maintained. The action was one in which the right of the Liberal member for Kamloops to sit in the Legislature was attacked on the ground that he had violated the statute in being interested in contracts with the Government.

The argument was used on behalf of Mr. Colley in the case that a previous action taken by Mr. S. J. Drake, of this city, and which had been dismissed at the trial, exhausted the right to further proceedings against the Kamloops member on the ground that the bases of action were the same.

United Church Starts Country-Wide Campaign

HALIFAX, N.S., Sept. 10.—The great autumn campaign of the United Church of Canada, a Dominion-wide movement with the two-fold aim of "enrichment of the inner life of the people" and "the development of a high sense of stewardship for our work in Canada and beyond the sea," was launched here yesterday at a meeting of the special committee of directors appointed at the session of the Maritime conference, recently held in Backville, New Brunswick. The forward movement campaign here yesterday saw the inauguration of the movement for all Canada.

Japan May Lift Embargo Against Canadian Apples

VANCOUVER, Sept. 10.—Requests for the lifting of an embargo on Canadian apples which has been enforced for the past five years have been filed with the Japanese Government, according to consular officials here today. Samples of the new crop are to be shipped to Japan as soon as possible, and if they are pronounced free from the larvae of the codling moth, the embargo will be lifted, it is expected.

Government Held Party to Combine

Mr. King Withdrawing Liberal Candidates to Make Way for Progressives, Declares Conservative Leader

BETHANY, Ont., Sept. 10.—Speaking in Durham County, where W. T. H. Preston, author of the report declaring the existence of a great ocean shipping combine, was a candidate in the last election, Mr. Hon. Arthur Meighen characterized the Government's contract with the late Sir William Petersen as "a manifest and stupid folly." "The folly of the agreement was so apparent to everybody that the Government had to get a committee of Parliament to find a secluded cemetery to bury it in," declared the Conservative leader. "Mr. King takes great umbrage out of the fact that the contract was ratified by Parliament. It had to be. Every contract which a Government enters into must be ratified by Parliament. But, outside of the official debates of the House of Commons, I never heard one man of any political party who had anything good to say of the contract. It was a manifest and stupid folly."

Cruises Around Island Planned For Next Year

B.C. Coast Service Designs to Operate Excursion Steamers in Circumnavigation of This Island

THE B.C. Coast Service of the Canadian Pacific Railway is contemplating next summer a round-Vancouver Island cruise by an excursion steamer, probably about three times during the season. In outlining the company's plan, Captain J. W. Troup, manager, said yesterday that he had read the remarks of Mr. C. P. W. Roberts, president of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, with regard to the Prince of Wales Island in the recent tour of the West Coast by members of the Chamber, which were published yesterday in The Colonist, advocating additional facilities.

Romance of Victoria Chinese Girl Flowers at Washington University

SEATTLE, Sept. 10.—A University of Washington romance with the co-ed bride a pretty Chinese daughter of Victoria, B.C., and the college bridegroom the son of one of China's foremost war figures, was wedded today when Miss Helen Lowe was married at high noon to Ken Yan in the First Baptist Church by the Rev. Frank Matthews.

Both had been living in Seattle, and were students at the University, both had been active in the cause of Young China and the study of Old China, her art and literature and language. And it so happened that Ken Yan became acting president of the Chinese society at the University, and Miss Helen Lowe became the secretary, and the love that might have blossomed in an oriental garden flowered instead in a western college. And today they were married by a western minister in a western ceremony at the foot of a western altar.

Plane Captain's Family Overcome On Hearing News

HAVRE DE GRACE, Md., Sept. 10.—Members of the family of Commander John Rodgers of the seaplane PN-9 No. 1, were overcome tonight when informed by the Associated Press that the entire crew of the plane had been found alive and well.

First Message Of Rescue Was Received Here

Mr. W. J. Tynan, of Seattle, Interpreted Morse Message Over Radio of Mr. George, 469 Oliver Street

"CREW OF PN-9 No. 1 found." This was the tall end of the message received at 8:50 o'clock last night by Mr. W. J. Tynan, senior superintendent of the Washington Bureau of Aeronautics, over the radio at the home of Mr. George, 469 Oliver Street, Oak Bay.

Mr. Tynan had been tuning in on the radio for long distance and had got above the usual broadcasting wave length, when he heard the message coming through in the International Morse code. Mr. Tynan, who superintended the construction of P.H.-1, the Seattle plane, which was not ready in time to make the flight, was formerly a telegraph operator, and was able to interpret the message, which was the first information received on this continent regarding the finding of the aviators and the machine in the Hawaiian group of Pacific islands.

Commanded Wrecked American Dirigible

The destroyer Macdonough left at 8 o'clock tonight for Kauai to pick up the five aviators and bring them to Honolulu.

The five men are: Commander John Rodgers, flight commander, Washington, D.C.; Lieut. Byron J. Connell, assistant pilot, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Ralph N. Pope, aviation pilot, Jackson, Pa.; William H. Howell, aviation chief, Philadelphia, Pa.; and Lieut. Richard L. Stanik, chief radio man, Terre Haute, Ind.

Submarine Officer Praised

Navy officers gave the highest praise and credit for the finding of the PN-9 No. 1 to Commander Frank C. Martin, commanding the submarine base here, who stationed his submarines in the positions which enabled them to pick up the seaplane 216 hours after it had dropped into the sea.

Washington Delighted

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—News of the rescue of the crew of the PN-9, No. 1, brought expressions of relief and delight from officials in Washington, where, except officially, hope had been virtually abandoned that they would be found.

Families Notified

HONOLULU, Sept. 10.—Families of aviators of the PN-9, No. 1, were notified at once of the rescue of the five men as soon as Lieut.-Commander Millington B. McComb, junior, commander of the Pearl Harbor air station, received the official news.

Lieut. Commander McComb Also Sent Two Other Messages

The first was to the five men: "Whole family is rejoicing. Your families notified." The other was dispatched to submariners, winners of the race to find the aviators: "The commandant congratulates submarine divisions 9 and 14, and particularly the B-4, for their excellent work."

Submarine Finds Lost Craft Fifteen Miles From Northernmost Island of Hawaiian Group—Five Men Aboard Safe and Well—Escape From Death in Sea Hailed Almost Miracle

Honolulu Goes Wild With Joy; Yelling Mob Fills City Streets

HONOLULU, Sept. 10.—The navy seaplane PN-9 No. 1, missing since September 1, was found today by a submarine and her crew of five, for whom hope had been abandoned, rescued. The seaplane was found floating in the Pacific Ocean fifteen miles east of the Island of Kauai, the most northerly of the Hawaiian group, sixty-four miles west by north of the Island of Oahu, on which this city is located.

Lieut. D. R. Osborn, Jr., commander of the submarine R-4, reported the finding of the seaplane briefly, giving no details, other than that the men were safe and well and that he had taken the PN-9 No. 1 in tow and would arrive at Pearl Harbor, this island, some time tonight.

Mine Sweeper Goes to Aid

The U.S.S. Tanager, mine sweeper, which has taken an especially active part in the search for the seaplane, started for Nawihiwi, Island of Kauai, immediately, expecting to arrive there about 8 p.m., island time.

Aviation officers here tonight estimated that the seaplane had fallen from 175 to 200 miles from Kahului, Island of Maui, the first objective of the flight.

The position of the seaplane when picked up was the point where navigators, estimating from their knowledge of winds and currents around the islands, had figured the seaplane to be last Saturday at 8 a.m.

As soon as word of the finding of the seaplane was received, Admiral S. S. Robinson, commander-in-chief of the battle fleet, ordered all ships engaged in the search to return to Pearl Harbor at once.

Dominion Must Grow, Declares C.P.R. President

Life of Country Depends on Industrial and Agricultural Development and Immigration

No Hasty Rail Policies

TORONTO, Sept. 10.—E. W. Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, was the chief speaker at the director's luncheon at the Canadian National Exhibition here today. The only safe and certain cure for the relief of the country's railway obligations, he said, rested upon the country's industrial and agricultural development and the extent to which immigrants could be attracted to it. The solvency of the railways, no less than that of the country itself, depended upon the realization of these two factors.

"Canada's railway situation is a vital concern to all the people of the country," said Mr. Beatty. "There is a general election pending and this would not be the time nor the place for me to express any personal views on the subject even if it were possible for me to do so without being regarded as a prejudiced observer and an advocate of the system of administration with which I am associated, but there is another and more important reason why I do not think any good purpose would be served by a discussion of the matter at this stage."

Cautions Against Hasty Action

"There is nothing that I know in Canada's economic life which transcends in importance the position of its railways and the work they are doing in development and transportation. Certainly there are no institutions which touch the commercial life of Canada in so many different ways as do their two great railway systems. If any change is to be made, I would say without hesitation that policies evolved and discussed in the cross currents and the hectic atmosphere of a general election would not receive the sober consideration that they deserve. Nothing can be accomplished without a correct appraisal of the facts and no action taken unless these facts are carefully weighed in the light of past experience and with regard to the potentialities of the country."

"The two major systems of the country are competing, and strongly competing, but the Canadian Pacific has not increased its services in any material respect in five years and has not duplicated any facility of its competitors. If there is a charge of waste to be made it cannot be laid at our door. While for any such duplication the Canadian Pacific Railway has not been responsible, as the largest taxpayer in Canada it unfortunately has to share in footing the bill. We propose, however, by every legitimate and fair means within our power to endeavor to retain the traffic we have spent forty years in developing and we propose further by judicious and carefully planned extensions to assist in the development of new territory."

Will Co-operate Where Possible

"You may rest assured that co-operation, as far as co-operation is possible in these circumstances, will be followed. Do not, however, be misled by the use of soothing words such as 'co-operation' and 'co-ordination,' which have a very infinite meaning to most people and are apt to give grounds for expectations not possible of realization. No one appreciates more acutely than the railways themselves the limited extent by which economics can be effected through so-called co-operation without loss of traffic and injury to either of the systems."

"One of the most important questions confronting the Canadian people today is that relating to the cost of transportation services, and admitting, if you care to admit that there does exist efficiency and that economies will be put in force wherever possible when the traffic is not sufficient to maintain separate services, there still remains the question which is of the most vital importance to both the national system and ourselves, and that is maintenance of adequate rates to enable these companies to function properly and also risk new capital in Canadian development."

Warns of Political Freight Rates

"I have no comment to make on any inquiries now pending before our railway commission. The Canadian Pacific must accept whatever it likes or not, any scale of rates which is finally imposed upon it, by judicial authority in consequence of impartial inquiry. What I am most concerned with, however, is that the integrity of that authority and its freedom from political or other influences should be zealously guarded. Political rates are a menace to any country and when I say country I include Canada, and they are a menace because if political rates are based upon other considerations than those which should determine the distribution of the rate burden, Canada has a very comprehensive and that economies will be put in force wherever possible when the traffic is not sufficient to maintain separate services, there still remains the question which is of the most vital importance to both the national system and ourselves, and that is maintenance of adequate rates to enable these companies to function properly and also risk new capital in Canadian development."

C.N.R. Names Official To Supervise U.S. Work

MONTREAL, Sept. 10.—Owing to the large increase in traffic being developed by the Canadian National Railways in the Eastern United States it has been considered necessary to appoint an officer with jurisdiction over that territory, and Frank A. Young, who since 1912 has been general passenger agent of the European traffic depot of the Canadian National Railways in London, England, has been promoted to the position of general Eastern passenger agent of the company with headquarters in New York.

Killed by Overturned Motor

LINDSAY, Ont., Sept. 10.—Mrs. Mandy Cunningham, of Wilberforce, Haliburton County, was instantly killed Tuesday night when a car in which she was riding turned over, pinning her underneath. Her brother was driving the car, the other occupants being her three-month-old baby and her mother, aged 84, who was badly shaken up.

Use Gillette's Lye to MAKE YOUR OWN SOAP and for cleaning and DISINFECTING
Gillette's Lye Protects Your Health and Saves Your Money

Legislative Achievement of the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier

"The work of the tribunal established under that Act was never more important than it is today. The personnel should be of the highest, and its members like Canada's wife. In fact, if we consider the magnitude of the questions they have daily before them, and their effect, not only on the commerce of the country but on the future of the transportation companies as efficient media of communication, their members should rank with those of the highest court in the land and should be paid accordingly. I would like to see legislation introduced at the appropriate time which would increase the compensation of the members of the commission in order that the best minds in Canada should be procurable and that they should be adequately remunerated for the important duties they must perform."

Business Better

"I am only venturing what you already know when I tell you that, judged from traffic returns, business is on the up grade. Our temporary letargies have been similar to that of a man suffering from anemia."

"Previous to the war Canada was absorbing every year a large immigrant population which was in itself creating a demand for goods as well as supplying labor. Railways were being extended to provide for the settlement of this increasing population, and cities and industries were expanding in proportionate ratio. Then came the war, with the stoppage of immigration on top of a heavy drain of young and adult manhood. The great machine of Canada was docked of the red-blooded man-power which formerly was being pumped into it and which helped to keep the wheels turning. Canada has had to limp along on its reserve man power, but

Mediums May Be Replaced By Machines

International Spiritualists at Paris Meeting Would Improve Methods of Communicating With Spirit World

PARIS, Sept. 10.—The problem of how spiritualist mediums can be improved until the day comes when they may be superseded by scientific apparatus for communication with the spirit world was one of the chief points discussed in the International Spiritualist Congress today. The subconscious medium was described as always troublesome, never being a "pure scientific instrument."

One speaker quoted Thomas A. Edison as saying that it would be impossible to find apparatus to replace the mediums. The Belgians, it was disclosed, already are experimenting with a crystal ball, and the French with an ultra-violet ray as a point of departure in the development of such apparatus.

Homes Planned for Mediums

The congress approved the creation of "medium houses" in all countries to relieve mediums from the necessity of working all day for a living and so being too exhausted at night for experiments.

One of the most important resolutions adopted was that spiritualists must leave their laboratories and face the iron and skepticism of the world by making experiments before the eyes of great crowds. The need for propaganda for spiritualism was discussed and it was suggested that sign boards and placards advertising it be freely placed in all countries.

Yesterday's session of the International Spiritualist Congress was the appearance before one of its committees of Jeanne Devors, a Belgian girl, twenty-three years old. Her case, as it was outlined to the delegates, is that she was afflicted with coxitis, a tubercular disease of the hip, from the age of ten months. Doctors operated twice and then abandoned hope.

Cured by Spiritualism

Three months ago, the delegates were told, M. Connache, head of the Belgian delegation to the congress, started giving her spiritualistic treatments, including a simple direct prayer to find and magnetic passes by mediums. The girl now walks, it was asserted, without the aid of a cane and her feet and hip are resuming their normal shape.

A difference of view developed between French and English delegates yesterday as to whether spiritualism should be taught in the family. The French favor this, arguing that it would train children to treat ghosts fearlessly and enable them to meet an apparition as a "welcome friend." The English demurred on the grounds that it might have an adverse influence on children.

Capt. E. Gillam Is Appreciated By Passengers

Victoria Chamber of Commerce Representatives and Ss. Maquinna Passengers Thank Skipper

Presentation to Be Made

Twice in the course of his last voyage on the C.P.R. steamship Princess Maquinna, Captain E. Gillam, the popular skipper, was the subject of a special demonstration on the part of the passengers. The second and more formal occasion was Wednesday afternoon, shortly before the vessel rounded Race Rocks on her return to Victoria after eight days on the West Coast run.

The previous occasion was in connection with a mock trial held on board last week, Thursday evening, an entertainment which required the cooperation and assistance of the ship's commander and officers. In both instances the demonstration, which was accompanied by enthusiastic cheering, was instigated by the Victoria Chamber of Commerce party, which constituted the major section of the round trip passenger list on the vessel's last voyage.

Appreciation Expressed

The wording of the resolution is as follows:

"The members of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, together with their fellow passengers on the Ss. Maquinna, desire to express to Captain Gillam, his officers and crew, their sincere appreciation of the courtesy, consideration, and attention extended to them throughout the voyage. The members of the Chamber of Commerce, through their united efforts it has been possible to enjoy thoroughly every minute of the trip and take advantage of the opportunity thus afforded to view to the best advantage its marvelous scenery and acquire a mass of interesting information concerning the industrial wealth and the future potential greatness of the West Coast of Vancouver Island."

Capt. Gillam, responding to the memorial, stated that this voyage of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce was the first taken on the Princess Maquinna by any organization of the kind, indicating the importance of the West Coast to the business men. He recalled the growth of the shipping business on the West Coast, commencing with the Maul, and continuing with the Willpa, the Queen City, then the Tees, and finally the Maquinna. The excursionists had been singularly fortunate, the present trip having furnished the most ideal sailing conditions of the whole year in the matter of weather.

Followed Sea Since Youth

Horn at Port Aux Barques, Newfoundland, Capt. Gillam has followed the sea since a youth of sixteen. He came to this part of Canada in the early nineties, and from 1892 to 1898 he was on various sailing vessels running to Japan. In 1898 he went to the Yukon, and was there for three years. In 1903 he joined the Ss. Queen City, and has been constantly on the Vancouver Island West Coast run ever since.

In speaking to the passengers yesterday the Captain referred to the unhappy reputation of this part of the Coast as "the graveyard of the Pacific," a title which it might take many such delightful voyages as the last one to advertise into oblivion. He did not describe in detail any of the incidents hinted at in the sobriquet, but history recalls at least two notable wrecks off this Coast to which he and his officers and crew were in the role of rescuing parties. One of these was when the Noquel went on Seabird Rocks just west of Jackman. In 1907, rocks just west of Jackman, the wife and child, killed by falling wreckage while sitting on the deck of the little vessel, the ship's passengers and crew were all rescued.

Rescue Attempted

Another incident was of later date. This was when the Maquinna, on November 25, 1915, went to the rescue of the Chilean ship Carlinapu (Captain Fernando Desolmes), when this little vessel was tossed ashore during a heavy squall off the Point. The Maquinna, putting out from Tofo, was unable to run close to the assistance of the smaller craft owing to the rocks. Unfortunately, after anchoring, the Maquinna's cable, due to the strain, cut right into the windlass, broke all the castings and could not be either lowered or raised. This necessitated the cutting away of the cable entirely, an operation lasting about ten minutes.

Eighteen of the crew of the Carlinapu, meantime, put to sea in one of the small boats. This was wrecked

She Was Weak Thin and Nervous

One of the greatest strength givers and producers of good healthy flesh in the world is Cod Liver Extract—It's full of vitamins! That now, when a woman is weak and haggard and don't weigh what she ought to, she knows where to go for help, as all druggists are now selling McCoy's Cod Liver Extract Tablets, sugar coated, and as easy to take as candy.

And it's a mighty good thing for skinny, rundown men and women to know that they can get the real Cod Liver vitamins in condensed form, that they can easily carry with them wherever they travel.

Men and women, weak, thin and nervous, are urged to put on weight and get back their health and strength with these wonderful tablets.

One woman gained 15 pounds in five weeks and that's going fast enough for anyone. Only 60 cents for 60 tablets, and if they don't put five pounds of flesh on this person in 25 days—why, money back and no quibbling about it, either.

But be sure and get McCoy's, the original and genuine, Vancouver Drug Co., MacFarlane Drug Co., Owl Drug Co., and druggists everywhere are selling lots of them. (Advt.)

and every man drowned. The Carlinapu, however, was tossed high on the beach, practically unharmed, and the captain and four of the crew were the only survivors of this drama.

Wood Borer Is Located in Tree 1,000 Years Old

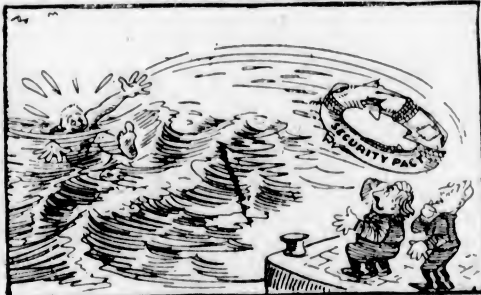

Remarkable Fir Is Discovered in Lumber Operations at Pulp Mills on Quatsino Sound

Example to Be Shown

Human habits have changed in many important essentials in the last 900 years. But the Ootum Audacea, a wood-boring creature which is familiar to all lumbermen, was keeping house nine centuries ago just about exactly as he is known to be doing today.

At Half Way River, one of the lumber camps operating in connection with the Port Alice Pulp Mills on Quatsino Sound, a big fir tree was recently cut down which disclosed the remains of an ancient colony of these pupae. Special interest attaches to this tree at the moment, as the Princess Maquinna on her last trip from the West Coast of the Island brought a cross-section of the worm-eaten wood which is to be put on display almost immediately in the Provincial Forestry exhibit at Vancouver.

The fir was about eight feet in diameter at the point where the saw cut through. The tree was about 200 feet in height. Study of the rings showed that the age of this giant of the forest was 880 years. The outer

Amundsen Reveals New Flight Plans

Companions of Last Trip to Go Along on Polar Venture—To Fly to Nome

OSLO, Norway, Sept. 10.—Lieut. Hjalmar Riiser-Larsen, who piloted one of the airplanes in which Roald Amundsen made his recent attempt to reach the North Pole, today gave details of Amundsen's plans for a new attempt next year to fly across the Pole. Larsen said his statement to the Norwegian Aero Club in the absence of Amundsen, who was indisposed.

He said that Captain Amundsen had purchased the semi-rigid dirigible N-1 from the Italian Government for 115,000. Next year's expedition, Lieut. Larsen said, would consist of Captain Amundsen, Lincoln Ellsworth, the co-leader of this year's expedition, who has obtained half the capital necessary for next year's flight in the United States; the Italian, Lieut.-Colonel Nobile, the builder of the N-1; Lieut. Larsen, Lieut. Dietrichsen, and Oskar Omdahl, of this year's expedition; Emil Horgen, a reserve pilot who accompanied Amundsen on his north sea expedition; and Amundsen's brother, Gustave.

Lieut. Larsen said that when the dirigible makes the polar flight she will be named the Norway and will fly the Norwegian flag. The plan, he said, is to start from Kings Bay, Spitzbergen, and to fly across the pole to Nome, Alaska. Mooring masts will be built at Trondhjem, Norway, and at Kings Bay.

Board Debates Proposal for Traffic Ruler

Opposition Greets Commissioner Stenland's Plan for Centralization of Control of Traffic in One Man

Chief Duties Are Outlined

A plan for the creation of the post of traffic officer was outlined by Commissioner Stenland before the Police Commission yesterday afternoon.

The plan, which calls for the appointment of a traffic officer to coordinate all traffic matters, was vigorously opposed by Commissioner A. M. Aitken, who said it would entail unnecessary expense at this period in the growth of the city.

One of the chief duties of the traffic officer would be to regulate conditions on the Belleville street piers. His other duties as outlined by Commissioner Stenland would be as follows:

"To survey the business area of the city and outline a program for uniform system of parking cars; to establish danger zones and generally to recommend any changes that may be necessary to make the streets safe for pedestrians and motorists alike."

"To recommend a proper system for the enforcement of streets by-laws."

"To attend to all complaints relative to traffic matters and report to the chief constable."

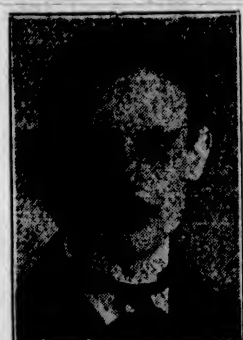

"To seek the co-operation of the local automobile club in the enforcement of traffic regulations."

"At stated times to instruct by letter or address the motorcycle policemen and uniform branch, relative to the streets by-laws and the proper supervision of motor traffic."

"As to public safety and street accidents, the traffic officer should ascertain the principal causes of accidents, show how to remove the causes and, by the medium of the press, instruct the motorists and pedestrians about safety. Effective advertising plays an important part in this work."

"To direct his attention to the more important accident causes, should be continually used."

Further consideration will be given the proposals at the next meeting of the Board.

Ex-Chief Buried From St. John's

Funeral of Late Mr. John Mount Langley Took Place Yesterday Afternoon

Both Provincial and municipal police were represented at the funeral yesterday afternoon of ex-Chief of Police John Mount Langley, whose body was interred at Royal Oak Burial Park.

The funeral took place from the B.C. Funeral Chapel and St. John's Church, services being held at the latter place by Rev. F. A. P. Chadwick. Thirty of the Victoria City Police Department, Chief of Police John Fry, Chief Sime, of Oak Bay, and Chief Thomas Hastings, of the Saanich police, who worked with Chief Langley for eleven years in the city, with Constable A. Rankin, represented the municipality. These, with a number of members from the Provincial force, marched to the church and also formed formal rank outside the edifice after the service.

A big congregation attended the rites, and further testimony to the esteem in which the late head of the local police was held was shown in the beautiful flowers which covered the casket. An unusual number joined the cortege which followed the hearse out to Royal Oak.

The following acted as pallbearers: Messrs. W. S. Terry, George Perdue, George Foster, Charles Nickerson, George Jay and Arthur Brown.

Saanich Exhibit Gives Langley a Very Close Call

V.I. Entry at New Westminster Fair Captures Second Prize of $400—Few Points Below Winner

Competition Very Keen

NEW WESTMINSTER, Sept. 10.—Langley retained the challenge shield presented by Lord Dewart and won the $500 cash prize in the 1925 district exhibit contest staged in connection with the Provincial Exhibition here. The award was announced last night by Professor Paul Hoving, of the University of British Columbia, one of the judges, during a banquet given to the agricultural exhibitors by the fair management.

Saanich, the Vancouver Island entry, came a close second. This is the second occasion when Saanich has invaded the Mainland with an agricultural display and on each invasion has proven one of the major attractions of the New Westminster Fair.

Repeating last year's effort, the Saanich entry, arranged by a committee directed by W. Mitchell, of Keating, only lost first place by a few points.

Langley has now retained this shield for four years in succession. Saanich, which scored second place last year, when it made its first appearance in the contest, will receive this year a cash prize of $400.

A speaker at the banquet was Hon. E. D. Barrett, Provincial Minister of Agriculture, who said the British Columbia Government was considering plans to reduce the number of small fairs in the Province which did not add to the general prosperity or have any educational value for the Province as a whole.

"With the elimination of the smaller fairs, the Government will be in a position to give more adequate assistance to the staging of the larger exhibitions, which are of a decided benefit," the Minister stated.

Mainland Municipalities Will Vote on Water Plan

The Water Act in force in Vancouver last year will form the basis for the formation of the new Water Board to control the water supply throughout the Greater Vancouver area, according to a decision made at a meeting held yesterday between Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Provincial Minister of Lands, and representatives of Vancouver.

It was also agreed that the municipalities of Vancouver, South Vancouver and Point Grey would submit by-laws to the people on the question, as provided for in last year's Act.

Those attending the conference from the Mainland were: Mayor Tay-

Longer Tourist Flow Wanted

Mayor Pendray to Seek Co-operation of Other Cities to Extend Travel Season

Hoping to extend the tourist traffic over a longer season this year, Mayor Pendray is working on a plan for a conference soon between the heads of Pacific Coast cities and representatives of transportation companies.

"Everything points to the need of distributing this profitable trade over a longer period of the summer," declared the Mayor. "The transportation companies are congested unduly in July and August, the hotels are overcrowded at every resort on the Coast for those two months, and apartments are not to be had in many of the cities of British Columbia, Washington and Oregon. At other times business slackens seriously, and all the profits of the short season are insufficient to meet the losses incurred."

"I believe it is practical to educate holiday makers as to the advantages to be gained by taking their vacations earlier in the year and spending them in Victoria, where May and June differ but little from the July and August weather. All that is necessary is to bring the facts to the attention of the people of North America and induce the railway companies to re-draft their vacation excursion charges."

"It is obvious that special rates are not a compelling inducement to travel in July and August, while such special rates in the earlier months of the year in September would greatly change the traffic conditions. I am going to endeavor to get the mayors of the Pacific Coast cities to act in unison in an effort to get the railway companies to make this vital change," he said.

Production of Coal Shows Big Increase

Gain Noted at Crow's Nest Pits While Vancouver Island Production Falls

Coal mined in British Columbia during the first seven months of the current year, totaled 150,075 tons, more than during the corresponding period last year, according to a report issued yesterday by Hon. William Sloan, Provincial Minister of Mines. Up to the end of July this year, total coal mined was 1,373,923 long tons, compared to 1,193,848 up to August 1, last year.

Most of the increase is due to the increasing activity in the Crow's Nest Pass pits which, during 1924, were for the most part closed down. Total coal mined on Vancouver Island shows a considerable decrease.

Vancouver Island's output for the seven months was 72,954 long tons compared with 87,586 in the same period last year, and there was also a falling off by the Nicola-Princeton district from 128,221 to 95,817 tons. On the other hand, in the Crow's Nest Pass field the aggregate output in the seven months this year was 511,058 tons, compared with 499,041 tons last year in like period.

Coke production this year totals 50,168 tons, of which 24,414 tons were produced at Michel and 15,754 at Coal Creek by the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Company. Last year the aggregate seven months' output of coke was 25,519 tons all at Michel.

Vancouver Island produced 114,789 tons this year, compared to 127,429 tons during the first seven months of last year, the Nicola-Princeton district 13,697 tons compared to 14,785 last year, and Crow's Nest Pass district 72,447 tons for the seven months of 1925. There was no coke production in the Crow's Nest district during the first seven months of last year.

The total coke production for the province up to the end of July was 266,843 compared to 144,217 tons for the same period in 1924.

From the Orient comes the great aid to
Home beauty!

RELICS of ancient Chinese architecture have defined the elements of the Orient for more than 2000 years. Until but a few years ago their lasting beauty and excellent state of preservation remained a secret. Eventually it was discovered that a surfacing preparation made from the oil of Tung Nuts was in truth the great preserving medium. Tung Nuts are grown extensively in many parts of China—even to this day Tung Oil is laboriously extracted from the nut kernels in identically the same fashion as in centuries past. Thousands of gallons of this same

Columbia Theatre Attraction Has Created Records

The life story of "The Man They Could Not Hang" is featured at the Columbia Theatre today and tomorrow.

The picture, which comes to Canadian screens after making continuous records in the United Kingdom, Australia and South Africa, is presented in a most novel way. Its simplicity, pathos and appeal to the heart makes it altogether different. Furthermore, the scenic musical prologue, with appropriate songs and other features, stamps it above the ordinary.

Fashions and Foibles

By Shirley Sharon

A jabot takes the easy downward path on a dress of severe smartness, and a company of buttons and buttonholes go with it all the way.

A smart woman seen lunching at the Ritz after a morning in town shopping wore a straight belted frock of grey-green heavy silk crepe buttoned practically to the ears. A grey and green printed silk jabot was just the touch needed to save it from a simplicity almost too obvious. If this frock is unfashioned at the throat and down the front for a distance of about five buttons, the collar rolls back in the very best Chanel manner. Ribbed silks make very smart dresses and a dark heavy main with a crepe de Chine jabot has a distinguished air.

Weddings

Skills—Balfour

The home of Mrs. J. Balfour, "The Oaks," Nanaimo, Man., was the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday, August 29, when Mrs. Balfour's daughter, Ada, was united in marriage to Stewart Skilling, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Skilling, of Victoria, B.C. The Rev. A. Strachan officiated. Miss Anne Balfour, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, and Mr. Hedley Sampson, of Victoria, supported the groom. To the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, played by Miss Thelma Weir, of Carman, the bride entered the drawing-room with her uncle, Mr. Wm. Balfour, who gave her in marriage. She looked charming in a gown of powdered blue georgette and carried a bouquet of golden cypripediums. The bridegroom wore a dainty gown of black and gold printed crepe and carried an arm bouquet of purple and white asters. During the signing of the register, Miss Weir sang "At Dawning". At the conclusion of the ceremony, a small reception was held, after which Mr. and Mrs. Skilling left on the noon train en route for Victoria, where they will reside.

Richards-Fischer

The marriage of Miss Frida Fischer, only daughter of Mr. William Fischer, Cowichan Avenue, and of the late Mrs. Fischer, to Mr. Edward William Richards, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Richards, of Nanaimo, took place on Saturday at St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay. The Rev. A. E. de L. Nunn performed the ceremony. The bride was charming in a gown of peach-colored satin with lace over-dress. She wore a black picture hat and carried a shower bouquet of tinibella roses. The maid of honor, Miss Myrtle Moore, wore a frock of eu de Nile georgette, and black hat. Her flowers were carnations and sweet peas. Mr. Raymond Hayles was best man. After a honeymoon in Seattle, Mr. and Mrs. Richards will reside in Nanaimo.

France Gives America Scare in Opening Davis Cup Tennis Match

Tilden Has to Do All He Knows to Overcome Borotra in First Contest of Challenge Round—Little Bill Has Rather Easier Task Against Lacoste

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 10.—America emerged triumphant today from opening matches for the Davis Cup, but only after France had given the defenders a spectacular and thrilling struggle.

Jean Borotra, the whirling dervish of the courts, came close to giving his country undreamed of tennis glory, when he forced William T. Tilden, the American champion, to a sensational five-set battle before yielding, 4-6, 6-8, 2-6, 7-5, 6-4, while his countryman, Rene Lacoste, carried William M. Johnston to another stirring finish, losing 6-1, 6-1, 6-3, 6-3.

Not in six years of victorious Davis Cup play has the United States withstood a more strenuous fight than she met today. France gained the real glory of the day, for in a single afternoon she came close to achieving what was looked upon as the impossible.

Borotra's heroic fight for victory over Tilden was the high spot of the day, and France's real hopes went with him.

The Basque's downfall followed by Lacoste's setback left France virtually hopeless. Victory in only one of the remaining three matches will clinch the cup for this country.

Tomorrow in the doubles America will pin her hopes on R. Norris Williams and Vincent Richards. They will face Borotra and Lacoste.

Where Lacoste did not make his stand against Johnston today until the American had gained a commanding lead, Borotra played Tilden to a standstill from the start. Losing two of the first three sets, Tilden's back was to the wall in the fourth and fifth. It took all his brilliance, all his masterly generalship and all of his endurance to win.

Johnston's victory over Lacoste was far more convincing than Tilden's over Borotra, but even so the little Californian had his hands full in staying off his twenty-year-old rival's belated rush.

Upsets of Form Puzzle British Football Fans

Few Ready to Make Guesses as to Outcome of League Matches Set for Saturday in Old Country

LONDON, Sept. 10.—With English league football now in its second week, followers of the game continue puzzled at the remarkable upsets of form that have featured the games already played and there are few inclined to be found who will hazard any guesses based on past performances on the contests scheduled for the day after tomorrow.

Liverpool continue to pin their faith to the Spurs and point to the fact of Tottenham's four straight wins as indicative of the metropolis being in a favored position this season. Already the spurs have exhausted their fixtures with one of the teams in the league, Sheffield United, the cupholders, whom they defeated in both a home and an away game and on each occasion by the score of three goals to two.

On Saturday the Spurs travel north to Lancashire and play Everton.

In London Area.

Two games are scheduled for the London area in the First Division.

West Ham-Burnley and the Arsenal-Liverpool.

The Hammers have begun their season with great promise, having won three out of four games and drawing the other.

This compares with one win, a loss and two draws by Burnley.

Arsenal and Liverpool seem to be evenly matched. A basis of comparison is found in the fact that both have played Leicester City. In the case of Highbury the Arsenal team have faced them twice and on dividing the points, two goals each on the first occasion, they defeated Leicester on the latter's second last Monday by an orphan goal.

The Mersey side opened the season with Leicester and accumulated rather badly, three to one being the count.

In the Midlands, a great game is promised in the match at Villa Park between Newcastle United and Aston Villa.

Champions Play Cardiff.

The league champions, Huddersfield Town, are hosts to Cardiff City and in no sense could it be said that the final contest constitute any threat to the Yorkshiremen.

Huddersfield, who were deprived of league leadership on Monday by Tottenham, have an opportunity of adding to their victories Saturday when they play Sheffield United. It is a case of the new leader facing the near tailenders, for the United's only

As there seems to be considerable doubt as to whether the Shanwanig Lake district is open for blue grouse shooting, Provincial Game Warden J. H. McMillan asks The Colonist to draw attention to the fact that Shanwanig Lake is one of the areas specifically closed in the Game Regulations for 1925.

Other scheduled encounters:

West Bromwich at Blackburn; Birmingham-Bury; Leeds United-Leicester; Manchester United-Manchester City; Bolton-Notts County.

Mrs. Jessup Will Meet Mrs. Mallory in Finals Of Middle State Tennis

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 10.—Mrs. Marion Z. Jessup, of Wilmington, Del., unleashed a command of tennis technique that eliminated Miss Elizabeth Ryan, of California, the favorite in the semi-finals of the Women's middle states tournament today at the Philadelphia Cricket Club.

It took eighteen games for Mrs. Jessup to vanquish Miss Ryan in the second set, but the third was won handsily, 6-2. Miss Ryan opened by annexing the first set 6-3. Today's victory qualifies Mrs. Jessup to meet Mrs. Mollie Mallory, defending champion, in the final.

In the other bracket Mrs. Mallory maintained her championship clip by defeating Miss Molly Thayer, of Philadelphia, 6-3, 6-6, 6-2.

S. J. Halls Is New President of the Uplands Golf Club

R. J. Halls was elected president of the Uplands Golf Club at a meeting of the directors held on Wednesday night. D. W. Campbell was the choice of an orphan goal. The Mersey side opened the season with Leicester and accumulated rather badly, three to one being the count.

In the Midlands, a great game is promised in the match at Villa Park between Newcastle United and Aston Villa.

But times have changed. Meilleurs les Français, out et Mesdames aussi, have been showing us a thing or two lately.

Over comes the gorgeous GEORGES, and, figuratively speaking, knocks the block off the best heavyweight boxer the British Isles could bring against him. And gives an encore to prove it is no fluke.

And over comes LACOSTE and BOROTRA and don't do a thing to Britain's best exponents of the lawn tennis game, first learned from France, but which for many years Britishers played best of any.

And to turn again to a rougher sport, one long regarded as essentially British. Rugby football, have not the gallant Franchmen learned it from us to some purpose and are they to be dejected now even in international play?

More and more have the French been turning to athletic sports and many games, and that, in the Old 'Un's opinion, may well be something which will give the lie to certain pessimistic critics of that great nation who feign to see its early doom from licentiousness and degeneracy.

Not alone the men, as hinted above. The French women, too, have been taking more and more to athletic sport.

Just regard for a moment such ladies as SUZANNE LENGLEN, without question the greatest lady tennis player of her day, and MILDRE RION, who has to her credit the best and pluckiest attempt of any woman to swim that little strip of water referred to above.

And, as this is being written, the news comes through that JEAN BOROTRA, one of those who started us going about the French in sport, although beaten by TILDEN, extended the man regarded as the best tennis player "as ever was," to the limit to beat him.

AND MADE HIM TAKE HIS SHOES OFF TO DO IT AT THAT!

VIC FOLEY

Bantamweight champion who will defend his laurels here on Friday night next week against Billy Mascot. This high-priced engagement is expected to provide a most interesting and exciting ten-round battle.

Test Victoria's Love for Fight On Friday Next

Victoria Boxing Association Making Bold Bid for Public Favor in Staging Foley-Mascot Match for Title

In taking the plunge and staging a Canadian bantamweight championship fight when Vic Foley, the Vancouver boy, and Billy Mascot, of Portland, meet in a ten-round encounter next Friday, the Victoria Boxing Association is making a bid for public favor and testing Victoria as a loving city.

If the card goes over big, with a good crowd on hand to cover the heavy expenses involved, Victoria is likely to have a lot of first-class fights during the winter.

If it is a financial flop the association dies down and calls it a day, with the decision that Victoria does not like the fight game to the extent of backing the association to the extent where it is able to put on good shows.

Frankly, they admit the Hehnen-Bayley scrap was not all they hoped to offer the fans. They believe, however, that it was a good match and that if Hehnen had not been so anxious to hang on to Joe's neck but had taken a sporting chance to win or lose in a real fight, things would have been interesting.

In placing Mascot and Foley on the card they have two men who are eager to fight from the sound of the song. They are both the kind of men who mix it in the open and make things interesting. Mascot, with one decision over Foley, has everything to gain. Foley, with the confidence of a title-holder, wants to draw a decision to make his run of successes.

There will be a longer card this time, the association has decided, although the arrangement of preliminaries is not yet completed. Instead of a semi-final there will be one more or possibly two more bouts.

D.F.A. Members Are Guests at Civic Banquet

Mayor Pendray, on Behalf of City, Issues Invitation to Body to Hold One of Their Annual Sessions Here

Island Pleases Visitors

The members of the Dominion Football Association, who made a day's tour of the island following the completion of their annual business session at Vancouver on Wednesday, were the guests of the city of Victoria at a complimentary banquet held last night at the Dominion Hotel.

Mayor Pendray, as chairman, on behalf of the city, welcomed the visitors and extended an official invitation for the body to hold one of its future sessions here.

Following the introduction of his worship by Jimmy Adam, R. C. representative to the D.F.A., the Mayor spoke briefly on the history of football in this city and told of the difficulties hitherto experienced by the soccer teams with respect to grounds.

He told of the recent acquisition of the Royal Athletic Park and declared that the city intended to make one of the finest enclosed athletic grounds possible. He was sorry, he stated, that the visitors did not have the time to see the beauties of the city, but declared he would personally see that descriptive literature of Victoria and the island would be mailed to every visiting member of the body.

J. Easton, in replying to the toast to Vancouver Island and the City of Victoria, told of the impression he had gained during the trip from Nanaimo to this city. He had heard lots of splendid remarks about the island, he stated, but when he passed that and said he had found they were utterly inadequate in description.

"Vancouver Island," he said, "was a paradise and he hoped to be able to pay another visit and have weeks to look over the place."

Other speakers among the visitors supported the remarks of the president and said they were in accord to the holding of one of the seasons here shortly.

Alderman Cullen, Jimmy Adam, C. V. Milton, A. D. Robertson and A. H. Walker, of Victoria; Sam Davidson and J. Easton, of Winnipeg; J. Ruel, Tom Mitchell, of Montreal, and T. Holland, of Toronto.

Rokk will referee the game which is scheduled to start at 8 o'clock.

Teams contemplating entering the City League are reminded that entry forms, accompanied by the usual fees and B.C. affiliation, are to be in the hands of the acting secretary, A. D. Robertson, 925 Agnes Street, not later than next Monday night at 8 o'clock.

All confidence is expressed by the local team that they will be able to take the measure of the Vets with very little trouble, and after last Sunday's game, which resulted in a two-goal draw, Cumberland football fans are of the same opinion as the players. Following is the line-up that will make the trip to Victoria: Walker, Mortimer and Marshall; Monaghan, Conti and Brake; Banerman, Plump, Fowler, MacDonald and Hitchens.

Advocates National Policy in Sport for the Dominion

Mulqueen Thinks Amateur Rules on Reinstatement Too Drastic—American A.A.U. President Invites Harmonious Co-operation Between Officials

TORONTO, Sept. 10.—Addressing the annual meeting of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada today, President W. A. Findlay, Montreal, gave several suggestions in regard to problems confronting amateur authorities.

The rules, he believed, were far too drastic in prohibiting reinstatement of men who commit infractions of "our definition of an amateur."

Regarding the recent trip of the Canadian women's team to England, Mr. Findlay said the girls made a splendid showing though they did not win any first places. Women's athletics should be in the hands of a women's organization and he controlled by them, at the same time receiving any co-operation they may desire from the A.A.U.

A feature of the gathering today was an address by Murray Hurlburt, president of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States, who extended to Canada an invitation to work with the United States "in a spirit of harmonious co-operation for the betterment of amateur athletics on the continent of America."

The report of Treasurer C. Robinson, of Winnipeg, showed a bank balance of $132.64.

A. W. Covey, chairman of the national registration committee, reported a "deluge of applications."

The committee sat all day yesterday and this morning and considered eighty cases. The committee will make a detailed report later.

R. J. Mulqueen, chairman of the Canadian Olympic committee, reported that $32,000 had been collected for the 1924 Olympic, with a favorable balance of $5,100.

Mr. Mulqueen advocated a national policy in sport to embrace all Canada, which met with the hearty endorsement of the delegates.

Play Final for Ladies' Golf Title At Ottawa Today

OTTAWA, Sept. 10.—There are but two remaining matches to be played in the fourth annual Canadian ladies' championship.

Bliss Ada Mackenzie, of Mississauga, continued her series of abbreviated matches today when opposed by Mrs. Maude Ross, of the Royal Ottawa Club, but the latter gave the favorite for the title the hardest contest she has had to date, taking her to the fourteenth hole, which the Toronto lady won to take the match 4 to 4.

The semi-finalists in the lower half have been encountering strong opposition and today's meeting of Mrs. Page, of the Royal Ottawa, and Miss Virtue, of Whitlock, was no exception, the winner being decided on the eighteenth green, when Miss Virtue failed to sink a short putt to halve the hole in five. The two battled along on even terms, both being out in forty and home in forty-three.

Tory Criticism Makes Premier Lose His Temper

Mr. King Angrily Accuses Mr. Meighen of Falshood—Accepts Senate Reform Challenge

Life Appointments to Go

CATUGA, Ont., Sept. 10.—Heatedly and angrily, Premier King again shot back at Mr. Meighen today. Addressing a Liberal gathering here this afternoon, he took Mr. Meighen's Wingham reply to his own speech at Richmond Hill, and, quoting lengthy extracts from both speeches, accused the Conservative leader of deliberate misinterpretation and direct falsehood. He took Mr. Meighen's reference to his Richmond Hill statement on railways and sharply questioned:

"Is this fair fighting? I think the people of this country would support one thing above everything else, and that is fair play. I don't think the public of this country want to have even their political opponents misinterpreted, their words distorted, their meaning twisted, and even have direct falsehoods told in regard to their position. I know these are strong words, but the time has come when they have to be used. For four years in the House I have seen Mr. Meighen misrepresenting acts day after day, and simply with the one purpose in view, of creating an impression that the Government is wrong, no matter how his words are injuring the country."

Will Take Noahs From Senate
Premier King accepted Mr. Meighen's challenge on Senate reform. Mr. Meighen, he said, had challenged him to name one single proposal for reform of the Senate to which he would commit the Government.

"I will take up his challenge," exclaimed the Premier. "I will commit the Government to this measure of reform, that I do not think Senators should be appointed for life. We have had men in the Senate who have reached the age of 105."

At this there was laughter from the crowd. "And a man who reaches that age might have been suited as an adviser to Noah, but he is not suited as an adviser at the present time. I say that when a man has passed a certain age, when it is perfectly apparent that his faculties are not as active as they should be, when his health is impaired, it is not right that he should continue to hold his position as a member of Parliament."

Members of the Government were agreed that life appointments should not be the basis of tenure of office in the Senate.

Had Answer Ready
"I thought Mr. Meighen would make that challenge, and I just held back," said the Premier.

Mr. King bluntly denied Mr. Meighen's contention that he was hampering senators before appointment and pledging them to accept anything the Government might propose.

"I took care to point out," said Mr. King, "that every man who goes into the Senate should exercise his judgment in regard to questions of the day. I have never said that any senator should not exercise his judgment in the Senate. I made it perfectly clear, when I was speaking of pledges given by appointees to the Senate, that I was speaking of reform of the Senate and construction of the Senate itself. I was speaking of Senate reform, not of the different measures which may come before the House."

Liberal to Oppose Premier
QUELPH, Sept. 10.—"Pooh, pooh," said Premier King when questioned in regard to a report published in a Toronto newspaper that he was to be opposed by a Liberal in North York.

"I was through North York today, and I did not hear of any other Liberal candidate," said Duncan Marshall, Liberal organizer for Ontario.

You Never Can Tell
WINNIPEG, Sept. 10.—Return of thirty-one Liberals in the four Western provinces was predicted here today by Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of the Interior, who is on his way to Edmonton to address his constituents.

"In the approaching appeal to the country I believe we will get eight seats in British Columbia, eight in Alberta, ten in Saskatchewan and five in Manitoba," Mr. Stewart said. "The big fight," he added, "is going to be in Ontario. I think Mr. Meighen may get fifty seats, but no more, in Ontario. Of course, you never can tell what the public will do in these days."

"Something happens overnight and there is a funeral."

Judge Declares Colley Trial Not a Sham

Clearthue to bring action against Mr. Colley under Section 21 of the act. "Clearthue agreed to do so," says the judgment, "and agreed to find a plaintiff. I do not think this direction of the Attorney-General makes the Drake proceedings an action by the Attorney-General in his official capacity, as urged in the argument."

"The Attorney-General, however, might well have thought the proceedings under said Section 21 was the simplest means of having the question of Colley's disqualification judicially passed upon. My own view is that this was the principal notion of both the Attorney-General and of Mr. Colley in what was done. The fact that Colley traveled from Kamloops to Victoria to consult the Attorney-General, in my opinion, clearly indicates this to be so. If Colley were primarily concerned about pen-

Speaker Claims Centre Is Only A Nurses' Home

Mr. W. H. Nix Says Saanich Institution Has Changed — Mr. Grist Urges Closing of Centre for Period

Board Delegate Is Chosen

THE Saanich War Memorial Health Centre, instead of being a nursing home, has degenerated into a home for nurses, was the opinion expressed by Delegate W. H. Nix, of Ward Four, at the meeting of the Saanich Central Ratepayers' Association, held last night in Tolmie School, with the president, Mr. H. H. Grist, presiding.

Mr. Grist, president, suggested that one of the questions which should be incorporated in the proposed plebiscite on matters concerning the Health Centre's future was, "Are you in favor of the Centre being closed for six months?" Personally he didn't think that Saanich needed the institution, and he believed that such a view would be confirmed if the Centre was closed for such a period of time.

"It seems to me, and a lot of others, too, that it is far too costly for the ratepayers to continue the Health Centre when at the same time they are paying such large sums to the city hospitals for the care of indigent Saanich patients," stated Mr. Grist.

Would Have Cost $75,000
If the Health Centre had been equipped for and was housing aged, infirm, disabled or decrepit persons, as called for by the by-law which was supported by the people, the institution would have cost $75,000, Mr. J. McNeil, Patterson, chairman of the Health Centre Board, and secretary of the Saanich Central Ratepayers' body, asserted.

Mr. Patterson, as head of the Health Centre board of management for the past year, gave a report on the activities of that body. He spoke of the financial aspect of the Centre, and the work that it had been doing. He touched on the friction that had occurred between the medical health officer and nurses of the institution, saying there had been no policy of give and take between the respective parties. Mr. Patterson was heartily thanked for faithful service rendered on the Centre board.

Urged to accept nomination as the Central Ratepayers' delegate on the new Health Centre board, Mr. Patterson begged to decline, owing to ill-health. President Grist was then unanimously elected as the organization's representative on the board.

The meeting was advised that the Ward Four ratepayers' body had taken a vote on the question of whether Saanich schools have a municipal inspector, which resulted in a tie, with the chairman casting the deciding vote in favor of the proposal. The Central ratepayers will discuss this matter at its next meeting, which will be held on Thursday, October 8. Proposed changes to the constitution also will then be considered.

India Has Much to Give the Empire Says Wardlaw Milne, British M.P.

But She Must Give It in Her Own Way, English Visitor Explains in Address Given Yesterday Afternoon Before Women's Canadian Club Here

All parts of the British Empire are interdependent; the future happiness of any one part depends on the welfare of all; and the welfare of all rests in the happiness of each unit in the great commonwealth.

This was the significance of the address given by Mr. J. S. Wardlaw Milne, British M.P., introduced by Miss Agnew, who presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. Hodges. Mr. Milne was very heartily applauded as he took his seat, and a cordial vote of thanks supplemented this expression of appreciation by his audience.

As an introduction to his talk on India, Mr. Milne briefly touched on the question of Mohammedanism, in which, he said, there was even more disunity than among Christians. "Most of the people of India are not Hindus at all," he said, by way of brushing aside a popular misconception. Neither was there any such thing as an Indian nation, as in religion, speech, customs, caste, and race they were of widely differing belief and origin.

Kinship Is Lacking
A population of 325,000,000, three times that of the United States, speaking more than 200 different languages, a people for the most part illiterate, "there is far more kinship between the most red-headed Scot of the North and the darkest Italian of Southern Europe than there is between the Sikh and the Bengali," explained the speaker. The British were the only means of communication which these unacquainted peoples had. Before the British went to India everything was chaos there. This was the best answer one could make to the ignorant Britisher who asks: Why are we in India?

More than seventy per cent of the great population of India is engaged in agriculture. These agriculturists, who believe in the justice, truth and honesty of the British, are the special care of Great Britain in India. Although a great responsibility, the agriculturist of India was a tremendous asset.

Ontario's Toleration
Something of the unbending prejudice of the caste system was described. India had more than 2,000 different castes and in the population of 325,000,000 nearly one-sixth are pariahs or outcasts, people whose touch was considered unclean, whom to see was to be contaminated, and even these unhappy people had learned to know that to the British one man was as good as another, a thing which the educated native advocate of "democracy" little understood. These men would be among the last to tolerate the outcast as an outcast.

"Do not believe for one moment that caste has disappeared from India. It is not in utterly bad principle. It has its good side; it often looks after people in a way that would be a benefit in Europe," said Mr. Milne in partial defence of the system. It is, he said, declining very slowly, but it must disappear altogether before Britain can seriously consider any form of self-government for India.

Basic Extends There
"None of us want to stop India moving toward self-government; she must be educated in that direction; but we must bear in mind the difficulties between north and south, east and west; we must realize that to give democracy to a people of that kind is a process of years and not of days. A few extremists will continue to cry for the moon, but we in England must be cautious of how much we shall give. We must build up from the beginning.

"There is in India the basis of a wonderful civilization. You cannot impose European ideas on a people as old as India; their religion, their art, their history is far older than ours. Every part of the Empire must contribute something to the whole. India has as much and more than any other part. But she must give it in her own way. She has shown that she wants to take her place in the Empire. We want her to travel and learn and realize the greatness of the Empire."

Reported Gold Discovery

CORALT, Sept. 10.—Another report of an important gold discovery in the district of Patricia has started a rush of some of the best known prospectors of this district to that far off gold. The discovery was at Red Lake, about 110 miles north and west of Sioux Lookout on the Canadian National Railways.

Two Fined for Fires

KAMLOOPS, Sept. 10.—A fine of $25 and costs was imposed upon Gilbert Genier, of Barriere, for setting a fire without a permit. C. Loucks, of Barriere, was convicted of failing to report a fire. He was given suspended sentence.

Ocean Rates Pact Called Stupid Folly

The Conservative Leader reviewed the terms of the pact. "You could no more control rates on the Atlantic with ten ships of the specified size, or any other size, than you could ladle out the Atlantic with a dipper," he asserted.

There was a combine or a conference of some organization among the steamship lines, Mr. Meighen said. The steamship companies claimed they could not function without it. "The Government itself could not function without it," he insisted. "The Government is a member of the combine and, what's more, it is still."

Mr. King was withdrawing Liberal candidates in Western Ontario in favor of Progressives and at the same time complaining that he could only function in Parliament by the aid of the Progressives, the Conservative Leader declared.

Liberals Deserting Party

Hon. R. J. Manion, minister of soldiers' civil re-establishment in the Meighen Government, said that there was no desertion from the Liberal ranks that after the election, Mr. King's party "would look like Kerensky's army after the Russian revolution."

"I venture to say that Mr. King made a thousand promises in the 1921 campaign and he has broken every one of them," Dr. Manion said.

The worst crime that the Government had committed against the country was in its tariff, however. This was the cause of unemployment and the exodus to the United States.

"There is no class in Ontario and Quebec which needs protection more than the agricultural class. The tariff policy of the Mackenzie King Government was insanely stupid," Mr. Manion said.

Conservative Prospects Satisfy

BOWMANVILLE, Ont., Sept. 10.—"If I am asked what the prospects for a Conservative victory in the coming elections look like, I will say that they could not possibly look better," said the Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Conservative Leader, speaking here at noon today.

Mr. Meighen stopped at Bowmanville on the way to a Conservative celebration at Bethany, Ont. The gathering here was in the nature of a public reception and was attended by the high school students of the town in a body.

The Conservative Leader told his audience that the wave of sentiment in favor of the Conservative party was rising.

"By hundreds of thousands," said Mr. Meighen, "people who formerly supported the Liberal Government are turning to the opposition. Mr. King refers to them as deserters and says I should take them into my cabinet, but I cannot take them all although I should be glad to have quite a lot of them."

Veterans Opposed To Amalgamation

Victoria Branch of Dominion Body Unsympathetic to Unity Proposal

Endorsing the stand taken by the Calgary unit of the Army and Navy Veterans in Canada, the Victoria unit of that Dominion-wide veterans' organization last night went on record as being unanimously opposed to the amalgamation of the ex-service men's bodies and returned soldiers in this country.

This action was taken at a well-attended meeting of the local Army and Navy Veterans' unit, presided over by the president, Mr. George Gardiner. There was not a dissenting voice when the resolution, expressing the Victoria unit's rejection of amalgamation, was put to the gathering.

The views of the local branch of the organization on the above and other matters will be placed before the forthcoming annual Dominion convention of the Army and Navy Veterans in Canada, which will be held on September 25 at Regina, Sask., by Mr. George Gardiner, fourth vice-president of the Dominion executive and head of the local unit, and Mr. Joshua Hinchcliffe, M.P., who were chosen delegates last night. Mr. C. F. L. Monay, secretary of the Victoria body, was named as alternate delegate.

By its decision last night the Army and Navy Veterans' Association is the first ex-service men's unit in Victoria to record opposition to amalgamation since Field Marshal Earl Haig toured the Dominion recently, urging returned men to get together in one united body of war veterans.

Ship Strike Wavers In Overseas Ports

Two Hundred Strikers Sentenced in Australia — Drastic Measures Effective

LONDON, Sept. 10.—Dispatches from Australia, New Zealand and South Africa today all indicate that the unofficial strike of British seamen, which has been most serious in the ports of these dominions, is breaking down, owing to the drastic measures adopted by the authorities. Altogether about 200 strikers have been sentenced to short prison terms of less than a month and the forfeiture of several days' pay under various charges of breach of duty. At Melbourne, police today surrounded the town hall during a meeting of the strikers and arrested the chairman and the strike committee.

When the Pacific Steamship Company's liner H. F. Alexander sails from Victoria, September 29, to enter the Atlantic coastwise route between New York and Miami, Fla., she will have as one of her commanders Captain H. R. Halvorsen, now master of the Emma Alexander. It was announced yesterday by the local office, Captain Halvorsen will exchange places with Captain E. P. Bartlett, who is one of the commanders of the H. He will journey between New York and Miami in connection with the provisioning of the big ship while she operates on the Atlantic coastwise route.

Mr. Presser will be succeeded as chief steward of the Emma Alexander by Mr. I. J. Cox, new chief steward of the steamship Admiral Evans. No changes will be made in the deck officers and engineers of the H. F. Alexander for her service on the Atlantic.

The H. F. Alexander will make one more voyage to California before leaving for New York and will be withdrawn from the coastwise run to California after her round trip which commences next Tuesday. She will be drydocked for overhaul and sail, September 29, for the Atlantic sea-board, on the "Around America" cruise.

One hundred passengers will embark on the liner at Seattle, while fifty will embark on the vessel here. The ship will stay in port two hours. She will then proceed to San Francisco, San Pedro, Balboa, Colon, Havana and New York.

Government Decides To Purchase Site For New Terminal

VANCOUVER, Sept. 10.—Reports from Ottawa today indicated that the Canadian government had, after five years' negotiations, decided to purchase the Hastings sawmill site on Burrard Inlet as a terminal for the Canadian National Railways at a price of $5,000,000.

Mr. Eric Hamber, president of the B.C. Mills, Timber and Trading Company, owner of the site, stated he had not been officially notified of the conclusion of the transaction, but was not surprised, as the terms of the proposed sale had been before the government for years. Lieut.-Col. G. H. Kirkpatrick, of the Vancouver Harbor Board, stated he had not been notified of the deal having been concluded.

Japanese Girls Apply Talents At a Cannery

Chamber Argonauts See Them at Barkley Sound—
From High School to Fish
Packers

When the foreign missionaries educate and send back to their people Chinese and Japanese whom they succeed in inducing to come to their mission schools, they use as a supporting argument the contention that these native-born converts are the very best agents whom they can provide for the great work of missionary.

It is not generally realized, perhaps, what an influence the public schools of this country are in introducing Western civilization to the Oriental groups within our territory. At the cannery at San Mateo (Barita), Alberni Canal, Chamber of Commerce members touring the Coast on the Princess Maquinna, noted an extremely pretty and intelligent type of Japanese girl working among the Oriental packers employed at the plant. It was discovered that she spoke excellent English, and a little questioning disclosed the fact that she is a graduate of Vancouver High School. Her name, which she shyly wrote (in characteristic Canadian long-hand) on a piece of paper for The Colonist reporter, is Waru Myoshita.

Waru, who is daintily polite, holds a rather superior place among the "hands" at the plant, having charge of one of the operations in connection with the sealing of the tins after the salmon has been packed into them by some of the heavily-gloved girls working at the long tables. She went direct to the plant at San Mateo after she finished High School last June, and has been there ever since.

Standing beside Waru was another Japanese girl who has also practically finished her work at the Vancouver High School. Her name is Ruth Washimoto. These two girls are excellent workers, as were told. So education has not spoiled them. On the contrary, they should be able, and doubtless are able, to teach the other Japanese much that the Oriental in this country should want to know, both about our language and the laws of Canada.

Candy-sucker Brings Death
HUTTIE, Mont., Sept. 10.—A penny candy-sucker held in his mouth as he was playing in his home, brought death yesterday to Jack Ryan, two years old. His mother, after frantic efforts to dislodge the confection from the baby's throat, took him to a hospital. An examination revealed that the boy's neck was broken, presumably in the struggle to dislodge the stick attached to the candy.

Gets no Support Against Communist

Conservative Stands Alone in Refusal to Accompany Red
Delegate to Washington

LONDON, Sept. 10.—Members of the British group of the inter-parliamentary union which will meet at Ottawa and Washington, made it plain today that they do not see eye to eye with Col. H. P. Woodcock, Conservative M.P. for Everton, who has announced that he will not be a delegate if S. Saklatvala, Communist M.P. for Battersea North, also a delegate, intends to make the trip.

They held a meeting today under the presidency of Sir Robert Horne and after a short discussion it was decided to send a reply to Col. Woodcock's letter, in which he announced his intention not to accompany the delegation. The reply stated the regret of the members at his decision to resign, but pointed out that the inter-parliamentary union was composed of a great many parliamentarians who held every shade of political opinion. Any member of parliament may join the union, it said, and every member of the union was entitled to be present at all conferences of the organization unless a numerical unit was imposed by the inviting group, which the Americans had not done.

The Elizabethan Flower Garden

The fruitful age of Queen Elizabeth brought forth the planning and the planting of the loveliest English garden very nearly to perfection. When the other arts of the Renaissance had reached their maturity and were on the verge of decline, garden making began to develop rapidly. Most of the finest houses in England were built at this period. After their erection an attempt to give them fit surroundings was a natural sequence. All conditions were ripe for the evolution of delightful pleasure gardens, which for form without formality have never been surpassed. Both the art and craft of their construction were understood as certainly never before, and perhaps never afterward. Like the gardens described in Sidney's "Arcadia," these were places "not fairer in natural ornaments than artificial inventions."

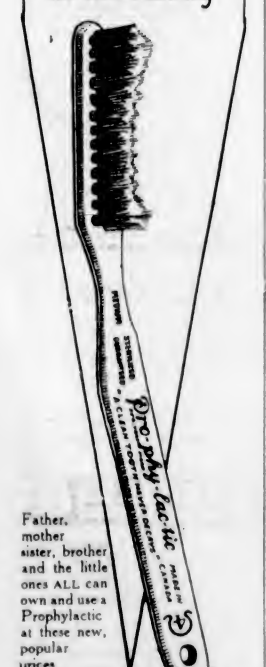

Cautiously the idea was introduced at this time that a thing of beauty might be an excuse in itself, and this led to the garden of pleasure, or flower-garden. But orchards, herbaceous and kitchen gardens were not done away with, and at the outset even the pleasure garden was excused as having a useful side. For instance, in the "Maison Rustique," the author concludes his statement that "the most pleasant and delectable thing in our French gardens is the flower garden as well in respect as it serves the chief end whereof Inherency it is to advise himself therein," by adding, "as also in respect to their service to set beehives in." Gerard also points out that most gardens were of practical service as well as pleasure-giving, in fact, useful ornaments.

"For if delight may provoke men's labour, what greater delight is there than to behold the earth apparelled with plants as with a robe of embroidered work, set with Orient pearls, and garnished with great diversities of rare and costly jewels? If this variety of perfection of colours may affect the eye, it is such in herbs and flowers that no Apelles, no Zeuxis ever could by any art express the like."

The discovery of the New World largely increased the range of horticulture. When inland joined in the great maritime movement carried on by the fourteenth century, her explorers returned with shiploads of "strange commodities." Among these imports was an abundance of plants. Just as the art of gardening had been developed by the fresh appreciation of the beauty of classic design, so the desire to naturalize these exotic stimulated gardening as a craft.

The number and character of the gardens depended of course on the taste and affluence of the owner. If he were poor, he might not be able to afford more than one inclosure, containing like the early Tudor gardens, all sorts of plants. But if he were rich enough to follow the fashion, he would separate his plantations into three or four divisions, in each of which a certain kind of vegetation predominated. In the "Serres" recognized four divisions—the kitchen garden, the nosegay garden, the medicinal and the fruit garden. The market was satisfied with two—one for the "household garden," the other the "garden for flowers and sweet smells." But all were more or less ornamental features were then included, and are still often retained, in the English kitchen garden, herbaceous and orchard. While even such a princely pleasure garden as Bacon describes, contained certain homely herbs and vegetables in the "garden for flowers and sweet smells." Markham suggests that "about the hedge we shall see for to make potage withal, pease, beans, cucumbers, and such like."

The Value of Experience

You cannot afford to have an individual Executor gain experience at the expense of your estate. The better plan is to have your property placed in the care of a Trust Company which has successfully managed estates for many years.

When you name this Corporation as Executor of your Will, you are sure that your estate will be administered by men of experience—and experience is important.

Winnipeg Grain Letter

WINNIPEG, Sept. 10.—Wheat: The market lost ground heavily today, closing on bottom and showing a decline from last night of 3-8 cents to 4-5-8 cents. The U. S. Government report issued yesterday, showing an increase in the Spring wheat yield of approximately 21,000,000 bushels over last month's estimate, was construed as bearish and brought out selling orders through commission house while buyers of the past two or three days were liquidating and taking their losses. The market opened sharply lower but held steady during the first part of the day, when there was a little export buying and light hedging pressure, but when the market failed to respond to buying, tired holders began to kick out and the market declined steadily. The buying against bids only holding it temporarily. Trade volume was fairly large, millers buying October, while there was considerable spreading operations in exporters. The Canadian Government will issue a crop report this afternoon and the trade expects the estimate of wheat to be around 375,000,000 or on the low side, as it will be based on conditions August 31, and will not represent figures as indicated by later threshing returns, which are better than looked for. Europe continues to buy moderately for immediate shipment as their crops are not yet moving to market, but news is very bearish for the future as they will require comparatively small imports this season and Russia is expected to flood their markets with wheat. Marketing at country points yesterday were 3,783,592 bushels of wheat against 615,598 on the same date last year. Loadings out were 2,550 cars. There were 1,074 cars of wheat inspected yesterday and 1,900 in sight for today.

Coarse Grains: These markets were fairly active today with good export buying of oats, barley and rye hedging. Sales by elevators by companies were heavy and prices declined severely in sympathy with the break in wheat. Flax: Market firm throughout, with prices closing a little higher; trade light.
